Small Investor in Role of Speculator; New Commerce Excursion; More Jobs

BY CHAPIN HALL

Should the small investor be a speculator, and if so, how far should he venture into the fields of high finance?

This is a question which has agitated traders ever since the establishment of markets in which to barter the popular securities of the day.

In Los Angeles there are two distinct classes of persons who have cash stock for sale. Oil and mining prospects argue that the knock of opportunity should be no greater than the individual with only a few dollars to be permitted to round clear and return in the case of the man of the thousand.

Seasoned dealers who are, perhaps, more farseeing, and who business established upon principles, found that the small investor should continue to invest; that in the bank or in paper money, or, if he is bound to enter the stock market, he should be advised to purchase outright a small number of shares of a good stock or an A-1 baby bond.

It was laid down as an axiom that the small investor should not speculate with his money in the stock market, but the market, in the fall of 1919, was greater than the market in the fall of 1919, and in March, 1922, the department emended, greatest in Detroit.

TELLS HOW TO SAVE CHILDRENMalnutrition
Prevention
Scheme DiscussedClass
Problem's
Solution,
Says DoctorProper Feeding Will Halt
Tuberculosis

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE, WASHINGTON, May 5.—The prevention of malnutrition means to a great extent the prevention of tuberculosis. Dr. R. P. Emerson of Boston told the members of the National Tuberculosis Association in their meeting here today. Dr. Emerson is president of the Nutrition Clinic for Delicate Children in Boston.

CLASS ONLY WAY

Dr. Emerson pointed to the nutrition class as the means of preventing malnutrition. It was not enough, he said, to organize any kind of a class, one that would work on a well-thought-out program, including the following features:

Selection of malnourished children by means of weighing and measuring on the basis of clinically determined standards.

Co-operation of a well-equipped diagnostic clinic, a complete physical growth, mental and physical examinations.

The elimination of physical defects and other conditions in order that children may be free to gain weight.

Modified school programs to measure up to the need for well-rounded educational work as for other school subjects.

REST. NEEDED

Home co-operation for securing proper rest periods and a feeding program, also for training of food preparation, also to insure permanency of results obtained.

The weight chart as a constant indication of growth conditions.

Free use of summer camps and other social agencies.

The proper place of responsibility upon physician, nutritionist and parents. Adequate preparation makes it possible for a physician to care for a class twenty in half an hour's time each week.

The co-operation of child helping organizations.

Adequate supervision of work done.

MARRIED SOLDIER TO SPITE HER HUSBAND

GIRL CONVINCED OF BIGAMY
GIVEN INDETERMINATE SENTENCE

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE, TACOMA, May 5.—Because she married a Camp Lewis soldier simply to spite her husband, Mrs. Ethel Williams of Seattle was sentenced to from one to five years in the State penitentiary at Walla Walla by Superior Judge Clifford today. Mrs. Williams, who is only 22 years old, pleaded guilty to bigamy when arraigned.

The prosecution in its opening statement said she came from Seattle and on April 10, 1921, Russell B. Beckwith, a soldier to whom the $100 travel pay he was to draw on his discharge from the Army, "didn't do any such thing," exclaimed Mrs. Williams. "I had a fight with my husband and I did a spite to him."

AUTO INJURIES PROVE FATAL TO AGED WOMAN

Mrs. Catherine Torrey, aged 66 years, of 857 South Flower street, who was struck down by an automobile April 28, died last night at the County Hospital as the result of her injuries. The accident occurred at the intersection of Third avenue and West Washington street. The auto which struck Mrs. Torrey was driven by Walter L. Jones, 4500 Huntington Drive, who is held by the Wilshire police pending investigation, but was released when it was learned that the accident was unavoidable.

The foods along the long reaches of the Mississippi River are the most disastrous in recent history and thousands of families have been rendered homeless. The charity of the nation should be to that the situation is improved as far as possible.

It is doubtful whether the food service in the mountains is not a deadly. It all looks as if composed of molasses and goo. Beans look like straws left over from the war, and a fried egg is a gastronomic horror. Griffith manages it pretty well in the "Orphan of the Storm" and the salad looks nothing like a shirt on a wall.

Harding will survive the hand-shaking nuisance at the White House. He is uncommonly suffering about it. Thousands of visitors file past the great hall and the doors are closed into his ears and shake hands. It will probably be Dr. Sawyer, keeper-in-charge of the Presidential health, who will have to speak the impudent words.

The close of the season of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra in this city brings out the statement that W. A. Clark, Jr., sponsor of the famous musical organization, has spent more than a half million dollars on the enterprise to the end that lovers of music in Los Angeles might have a home. The city offers a great field of gratification. The members of the Philadelphia are an expensive proposition, and the public taste in this city, as elsewhere, cannot always be depended on to supply the funds. Mr. Clark has shown himself to be a more generous patron. He is in the class of the last Col. of Boston of Boston, who for years was the financial backer of the Boston orchestra. Los Angeles music lovers ought to be proud of Mr. Clark, and the sentiment should, and we believe do, extend to the city generally.

The BUTTERFLY ORCHID

“I am dead,” said the man, brought out of the jungle by Mr. Forsythe. “He, too, is dead. You know that?”

“Yes,” replied Hardin simply. “We are separated now, even in Scipio. And Mr. Forsythe was a famous man.”

“You read an interview about him in the New York Planet?” asked Cairns. Hardin gave him a glancing glance that was sufficient. Hardin had seen the interview in the Planet or some syndicate paper that the visitors had learned of the Sheriff's interview after it was made he.

THIS IS THE DAY

John Gorrie of New Orleans took out the first patent for an ice-making machine in 1851.

First successful flight of a heavier-than-air machine in 1856. The flight was made at Quantico on the Potomac River, near Washington.

The machine used on this flight was invented by Dr. G. P. Langley of the Smithsonian Institution. When the motor was started the machine flew 2000 feet, remaining in the air one minute and twenty seconds. There was no power in the machine for this first flight.

The experiment, however, demonstrated conclusively the practicability of the airplane. In 1903 Dr. Langley built a man-carrying airplane and attempted another flight. Owing to a defect in the launching apparatus this airplane fell into the Potomac River and was almost destroyed. The fall broke Dr. Langley's heart. But Mr. Curtis resurrected the old machine in 1910, installed a new launching device and it successfully overcame the defect. The plane was able to fly again. There were some difficulties, but these were soon overcome, and Curtis was satisfied.

For a time Dr. Langley's plane disputed the title of the first flight. The first flight, however,

A group of gifted advance students were presented in recital by Edith Lillian Clark and Carolyn Handley last night at Ebell Club Auditorium. The young musicians were the pupils of Mr. Clark, who has made his employment of the affair, which assumed a delightful character, because of the discrimination used in selection, and the interesting work done by the students. Clark has been the principal player in the Second Scherzo by Chopin. Those of her own pupils who rendered piano numbers were Misses Dorothy Green, Miss Archibald, Miss Ione Gilbert, Miss Jessie Caldwell and Miss Margaret Hook. Songs were given by Mrs. Rose Johnson and Miss Lillian Leon. Doyle assisted as accompanist.

MARY MINTER HOME

SAYS HONOLULU IS THE LAND
OF ONE'S DREAMS

By Grace Kingsley
Arriving in town yesterday from San Francisco was Mary Miles Minter, who has been vacationing in Honolulu. The Lasky star reports having had a delightful visit. She met native princesses and declared the Hawaiians were the most charming in the world, both the natives, and the English and Americans dwelling there.

She had seen various other of the islands of the Hawaiian group, and even saw the volcano in eruption. She had to wait six hours for the show, but it was worth it, she declared.

Ald-For-Needy Club

The younger set among the feminine picture players are going to be left behind the time when it comes to having clubs for social and purposeful numbers. The fair young ladies met at the home of Helen Ferguson last Wednesday evening, when the objects of the club were discussed—the girls were not so serious that a president was elected, being none other than the charming Mary Pickford.

But these bright young persons aren't going to forget those less fortunate than themselves, and it was decided that for the purpose of taking care of an interesting woman who is in financial straits.

The first thing the club will undertake is a party calculated to bring joy into the mere or less dire lives of the denizens of the Wounded Soldiers' Home at Favetelle. This will be given under the auspices of the Post War Service, of which Mrs. William P. Carleton, Mrs. William and Mrs. Wilson is in charge of affairs.

Those present at the initial meeting were Lois Wilson, Helen Pickford, Clara Horton, Vola Vale, Marlyn Ayer, Virginia Valli, Mildred Davis, Betty Francisco, Patsy Ruth Miller and Bessie Love.

Cecil De Mille Returns

If you don't think Cecil De Mille, director-general of the Motion Picture League, has wholly recovered from his health, just look out to have seen him at work on "Manaslu," which he took his company last week. He returned to the city yesterday, bringing with him many scenes.

Leatrice Joy and the other members of the cast report that they never worked so hard in their lives, but the girls managed to enjoy themselves, too.

Carmel Myers Vacations

Carmel Myers, who is to appear as star of number of Walter Hamill's productions on the stage and screen, is to go away to the seashore for a few days' rest before beginning work. She finds herself in a bind, however, for upon the shock of the death of her father, Carmel Myers, last week.

Man O' War in Flins

Just by way of adding fresh tang to his racing picture, "The Suburban Handicap," which will be filmed at Lexington, Ky., Director King Baggot has gone to England to no avail, as a performer under "Man O' War," is a member of the cast. The world's greatest racing hero is to be on the ground when King Baggot and his versatile players arrive in Lexington, for the high stepper to appear in his film.

Ad Club Will

Stage Minstrel Show Tonight

Variety and quality in full measure will, it is said, be had at the Ad Club minstrel show and vaudeville at Philharmonic Auditorium this evening, and the several hundred disabled veterans and the unemployed ex-service men who will attend and some of the Advertising Club will be presented with an engaging program.

The setting of the minstrel show will be of a novel and unique character, and the minstrel chorus will offer splendid support to the humorous old men, Harry Carroll, Gien Duncan, Dick Coburn and Harry Rich.

New songs will be only one of many distinctive features of the entertainment. Dick Coburn and Vincent Ricci, the local comedians, have created a fund of charm and harmony in their new compositions.

The Ad Club Quartet, composed of Capt. C. W. Jargotoff, Billy Atkins, Harry Stout and Harry Coe, will sing several new numbers and numbers and the harmonies of these four men will be a feature of the minstrel show.

Both comedies distinguish the work of the Little Sisters, who will appear in special dance numbers. Miss Ruth Hayes, a talented solo dancer, will appear.

Entertainment of a more strenuous character will be contributed by a troupe of Japanese ju-jitsu artists.

The Golden West Quartet, consisting of Misses Cordelia Story, Peggy Ladd, Lulu Lewis and Misses Gandy, will sing with their personality and harmony.

Edie Gamble, the eccentric jester, will amuse with her antics.

STOCK AT DALTON'S

No Change of Ownership, But
New Policy

In connection with the statement that Dalton's Broadway Theater has passed into the hands of the Smith-King Players who have been presenting stock productions at the Raymond Theater in Pasadena, R. A. and F. A. Dalton, owners of the theater, have announced that the theater will remain under their direction and management, and that the stock company themselves have decided upon the stock company and therefore engaged the company.

This new policy will go into effect on the 22nd inst. In the meantime, the Daltons have already selected for the coming period of the company Betty Brie and E. Anthony Smyth. Both are favorably known here. Miss Brie is a member of the Los Angeles social set, and the author of "The Youngest Daughter." Mr. Smyth with the Harlequin.

The opening bill has not yet been decided upon, but it will undoubtedly be a New York success never before played here.

The company will consist of a number of well known actors and actresses, among whom are Lynn Wayne, Wendell Willkie, Jerome Myerson, Virginia Thornton, Victor Donald, Charles King and Hugh Merton.

CLUBS STAGE SHOW

PRESENT "COMIC OPERA.
"CAPT. CROSSESSES," AT AUDITORIUM

You would know that the plot was well thickened from the title, "Capt. Crosses," but nevertheless the show of that name given by members of the Los Angeles social set, and the author of "The Youngest Daughter," will be a very entertaining affair for a huge audience last night at Philharmonic Auditorium. It presented a variety of acts, altogether different from the usual run of attractions, and many individual hits were won by members of the cast.

"Capt. Crosses" is a comic opera in two acts by Arthur A. Penn. It contains a number of pleasing numbers, including "The Girl I Left Behind." The production was staged with a chorus of attractive girls and a large ensemble of men as well.

The company was well cast, and enthusiasm was manifested on the part of those who appeared.

Inc. Belcher was very successful in his role as the captain of the principal, including J. C. McKinley, Ethel Osborn, Nutt, Ethel Brown, Helen Kelman, Edna Clegg, A. S. Scott, Shirley Schuttler, Jack Meagher, J. V. Wall, Hortense McLean, C. O. Odle and David Vorhees, all did excellent work.

SHIBLEY BOYES

HIGHLY GIFTED

With an extraordinary sturdiness and drive to her playing, Shibley Boyes, another pupil of Mr. Thilo Becker, who is a capacity audience at Gamut Club, in rapt attention during a long and varied program, last evening. That particular girl has done comparatively little to do with artistry and everything to do with popularity, and is a precious gift of the gods, in her most remarkable debut. She is not without mannerisms, which must be tempered, and Miss Boyes should be cautious against nibbling at her keynotes, but the latter fault may have been due to the difficulties of the particular instrument she used last night.

The Dorothy group were beautifully handled and perfectly suited to the planned, "The Serenade of the Dolls," "The Wind Shop," with its inevitable "Dollie," in which she showed her true self, for every phrase was full of witchery and charm.

Quite as beautiful in tone and execution was Lila's "St. Francis Preaching to the Birds." The brilliant "Tarantella" of Harry Clegg was the highlight with dash and verve, which assured well for the future triumphs of this pianist.

STORY OF COWARD

"His Back to the Wall" Next as

Califonia

Jerome Dine was a coward and he did not dare thrust himself into a situation that would try the mettle of a hero. This character is portrayed by Raymond DeWitt Bicks in "Back to the Wall," a comedy that is due to open to the public next Sunday. Mr. Hatton's leading woman is Virginia Valli.

A prima travel picture, "The Wandering Shop," with its inevitable "Dollie," in which she showed her true self, for every phrase was full of dash and verve, which assured well for the future triumphs of this pianist.

INVITED TO OPENING

Start to Attend Ceremonies in San Francisco

Ten film stars have already accepted an invitation extended by E. A. Schiller, general representative for Low's, Inc., controlling Low's State Theater and Metro Pictures, to attend the opening of Low's Warfield Theater in San Francisco on the 15th inst.

T. L. Tally has booked this feature celebration of his twentieth anniversary as a motion picture exhibitor. In "Too Much Business," Horton has a role not unlike the parts he has been playing in his career. The star is said to be one of the best comedians turned out in several years, and eastern critics declare Horton to be a second Shirley Drexler.

Shiller arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning and at once began sending out invitations to the celebrities of the town, including Joseph Engel, a soon-to-be manager for Metro.

He has already accepted invitations to go to the opening of the company's new theater.

NOMA S. B. SHIRLEY MASON, Tom Mix, Elliott Dexter, Niles Welch and Billie Dove.
